

The Darlington & District Organists' and Choirmasters' Association (DDOCA)

DDOCA exists for those who have a passion for the organ and its music. Everyone is welcome to join, including organists, those who enjoy listening to organ music, or people who would just like to support the organ world in the Darlington and County Durham area. Our aims are to encourage those with an interest in the organ (especially the young), promote musical activities relating to the organ, and build a social network of organists and those who support the organ.

We arrange a series of events throughout the year. These events include concerts, training events, visits to organs of interest, and an annual dinner where members and friends can meet socially. We also help to promote other musical events connected with the organ and church music in our area.

Our website contains comprehensive information about our activities including the organs we have visited, forthcoming events and news from members - visit it at <http://www.duresme.org.uk/ddoca.htm>

DDOCA is affiliated to the Incorporated Association of Organists - the national federation covering all matters connected with the organ. Its magazine, the Organists' Review, is published quarterly and is offered to DDOCA members at a reduced rate.
